

Colorado Training Trip 2023

Friday, Nov. 17 (travel day) - Friday, Nov. 24 (travel day)

FAQs for U14s

Is it mandatory?

Our Colorado trip is not mandatory, but highly encouraged. Yes, the skiing is usually incredible, and the kids make huge gains on snow, but it's also a week of learning independence while living amongst a team. This is one of the best lessons we bring home from the trip.

Do I need to accompany my child?

Parents do not need to come along! Of course you're welcome to come along; however, the kids stay independent of their parents. We have 2-3 condos, separated by gender, fully staffed with adult coaches and we ask you to trust us with them for the week. If they don't first wipe us out, we'll wipe them out before they return :)

What do I need to do prior to departure?

Details you need to take care of: flights, Dartmouth coach ticket, and a lift pass for A-Basin. This info is provided below. If for any reason your son or daughter won't travel with the group, we can make arrangements. Coaches take care of transportation in Colorado, lodging, food, etc..

Should my child attend?

If anyone needs help deciding whether this trip is right for your child, send an email to alpinerace@fordsayre.org and we can chat.

What is the cost?

We try to keep the economic impact of this camp low. In addition to flights and tickets, parents will split the group cost for lodging, transportation, food, and coaches' travel. We can estimate that the camp will cost somewhere between ~$1,000-$1,300 for the week.

FAQs for U12s

Is it mandatory?

Our Colorado trip is not mandatory, but we encourage U12s to participate because it's always a ton of fun and excellent early season skiing!

Do I need to accompany my child?

YES! U12s are required to be accompanied by an adult on this trip. Ford Sayre does not provide lodging or transportation for this age group. Coaches will provide the daily schedule and skiing location and plan to meet kids at the mountain. Parents DO NOT need to ski with their child. Kids will ski in a group with a coach each day.

Should my child attend?

If anyone needs help deciding whether this trip is right for your child, send an email to alpinerace@fordsayre.org and we can chat.

What is the cost?

We try to keep the economic impact of this camp low. Parents of U12 athletes in attendance should plan to help cover the coaches' expenses, which is approximately $150 to 300, depending on total athlete numbers.
